

Action Consensus WEF Hike 2023

In order to make the winter hike transparent and assessable for all participants, we have developed this action consensus:

We respect the personal boundaries of other activists.

Violence against living beings of any kind and endangering them is rejected as a form of action. By violence we understand everything that causes pain to the other person, be it of a psychological or physical nature. We do not favor escalation, nor do we engage in provocation.

Damage to property is not part of this action.

Our walk is meant to present an image of diversity, creativity and openness, since we come from different social movements and political spectrums.

We take responsibility for the success of the hike as a collective.

During and after the hike we act in solidarity and support each other even if the hike is met with repression and legal problems result from it.

Furthermore, during the hike we will refrain from any drug consumption (including alcohol) and we will distance ourselves from conspiracy ideologies.

With the winter hike we want to bring our demands to the public and make climate justice a topic of conversation. Therefore, we will accompany the hike with media representatives and photographers.
